THE BEST REMEDY FOR RHEUMATISM.

QUICK RELIEF FROM PAIN.

Sims, of Troy, Ohio, says: "Some time ago I had a severe attack of rheumatism in my arm and shoulder. I tried numerous remedies but got no relief until I was recommended by Messrs. Gooch, F. Parsons & Co., druggists of this place, to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. They recommended it so highly that I bought a bottle. I was soon relieved of all pain. I have since recommended this liniment to many of my friends, who agree with me that it is the best remedy for muscular rheumatism in the market." For sale by Craig & Hocker, Druggists.

In an article sent from Frankfort to the Cincinnati Enquirer, this appears with reference to Goebel: Kentucky has lost her ablest man, but some fruits of his sacrifice are realized. The corporations are out of politics. They declare it through their officials, and the men who were the political Hessians of the railroad companies and the commercial trusts are looking for new fields of employment.

Our friend, W. P. Walton, formerly of the INTERIOR JOURNAL and Lexington Democrat, is a candidate for railroad commissioner. We are for him. He is one of the best fellows in the world and capable of holding any job he tackles. He would do a great deal better as a newspaper man than as a politician, but if he wants to try his hand we shall help him all we can.—Cynthiana Democrat.

ADVICES from Indiana are to the effect that the republicans there are beginning to feel that they have elephants on their hands in the persons of Taylor and Flinley and many of them are outspoken in their conviction since the testimony of Gov. Bradley, that Gov. Durbin should honor Gov. Beckham's requisition for them. Gov. Durbin is said to be getting restless and to have remarked: "This thing down in Kentucky is getting bad and we can't afford to stand in front of this crowd much longer." Many now recognize that Gov. Mount, may the devil settle with him for it, made a serious mistake in setting the example of harboring criminals and that its further continuance will work lasting injury to the State. There are those, too, who believe that innocent men would court instead of avoid a judicial inquiry into the charge against them, especially since the claim can no longer be made that the court of appeals stands ready to confirm any decision of Judge Cantrill. The fact is these fugitives having confessed their guilt by flight, they are now in mortal terror of their fast approaching doom. They must fly further, if they would escape the wrath to come, but which way they fly is hell. An avenging God will pursue them with fear and remorse and should they succeed in escaping the officers their days on earth will be filled with anguish and travail. But they will not succeed in escaping the long delayed punishment. The scaffold timbers are already sawed and seasoned and the rope is ready to do its work. The blackest crime that these fiends incarnate carried to such diabolical execution will be avenged and the law fully vindicated.

ACCORDING to the statistics published in the Chicago Record-Herald, over 10,000 murders were committed in the United States last year. The figures are appalling even to Kentuckians, who are accustomed to seeing human blood spilt, and cry aloud for so stringent an execution of the law against murder as will stay the hand of those who would take the lives of their fellow man. In the table given by the Chicago paper, Texas heads the list with 1,021 murders, New York coming next with 512, California next with 422, Alabama, 461 and Tennessee, 408, Kentucky being sixth with 398. The number of hangings that resulted from these murders is not given, but it is probably not more than one to the 100. The Missouri law fully executed would stay the fearful slaughter, for men would hesitate long before they would dip their hands in human blood if they were fully convinced that they would pay the forfeit with their own lives.

THOUGH they are related, Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge, who claimed that it was a monstrous outrage to accuse Capt. Ripley of being in the conspiracy to murder Goebel, is conspicuous by his absence from the defense, while Bill Owens, Dory Hallam and John Young Brown are likewise missing. The civil libertines have either stopped putting up or these worthies have shut up for the good and sufficient reason that they have become disgusted with the whole dirty business of trying to keep the necks of the assassination freed out of the halter.

THE Texas Legislature has passed and the governor signed a baratry bill, which imposes heavy fine and imprisonment on lawyers who foment suits against railroads and persons, or who advance money to clients to secure such cases. If such a law were enforced here there would perhaps be hardly a sufficient number of lawyers out of jail to attend to the regular business in the courts.

THE republican organs are making a great ado over the alleged fact that the new attorney general, Knox, lives up to a $50,000 income to take an $8,000 office. These papers need not wear their finer garments in proving his sacrifice. The trust, of which he is an advocate, and was an attorney, will see that he loses nothing peculiarly by the sacrifice.

A CONTEMPORARY, which has not been carried away with the daring exploits of "Gen." Funston and his over prompt promotion, rises to remark: "There is a suspicion upon the horizon already several times larger than a man's hand, that Funston captured Aguinaldo on plans and specifications furnished by Aguinaldo himself." Laying all jokes aside and coming down to every day solid facts, it does look a bit suspicious that the Filipino dictator should so easily and so quickly after his alleged capture, accept the "benign assimilation" of the government he was so lately in deadly conflict with. Unless his remarks have been strongly censored or withheld entirely, he has expressed no solicitude for his cause or shown the least concern about his "alleged capture." We do not wish to distract anything from the achievement of Funston and his party that really belongs to it, but in this era of hero making and hero breaking, we may be excused for expressing a doubt that the alleged capture was as daring as the dime novel report of it, or that its execution entitled Funston to such rapid promotion, especially over the men who had borne the heat and burden of the day.

THE prosecution in the case of Capt. Ripley for complicity in the murder of Gov. Goebel rested Saturday after introducing 47 witnesses. The defense made a motion for peremptory dismissal, but it was overruled and Attorney O'Neal stated Ripley's side of the case, in which he admitted the conversations told by Gov. Bradley and Judge Yost, but said their memories were tricky. What Ripley did tell them that Taylor said was, "My God, these are terrible times. Goebel will be killed, I will be killed and there will be riot and bloodshed." Court adjourned at the conclusion of the statement till yesterday, when Ripley took the stand in his own behalf. He declared he did not conspire with anybody to kill Gov. Goebel and his memory was faulty about the Bradley conversation. He said that Taylor feared some crank might kill Goebel and himself.

IN our report of his testimony in the Ripley case, we unintentionally, of course, aid Gov. Bradley as injustice. He did not say that Ripley told him prior to the shooting that Taylor said Goebel would not live 24 hours, but told him in May, four months afterwards, that Taylor had made the remark the day before Goebel was shot. This makes a great deal of difference as otherwise it places Gov. Bradley in the position of having guilty knowledge of what was to occur, which no one who knows him, could believe.

CAPT. LUCIEN YOUNG sent two journalists to prison at Havana because they published an article saying that he had lied. Perhaps the charge is too severe, but unless the captain has mended his ways mightily, his dearest friend could not resent the imputation that he can stretch a blanket about as far as the next man.

IT is sent out from Lincoln, Neb., that Mr. Bryan will clear over $100,000 the first year of his newspaper venture and that the possession of so much money will make the presidential bee commence to buzz in his ear again. It is doubtful that the bee has ever ceased to buzz, but it is not near as doubtful as the first statement.

NONE of the assassination organs have dared to intimate that Gov. Bradley gets a divy of that $100,000 and there isn't one of them rash enough, even though it is mean enough, to do it. And yet Gov. Bradley corroborates those who are designated by them as "perjured scoundrels."

IN order to stimulate the infant industry and replenish the decreasing population, the State of Kansas will give a prize to all parents who hereafter have twins or triplets. The result of such promise will be watched with interest.

POLITICAL.

Popular Abo Ronick was renominated for the Legislature in Clark by a majority of 1,400.

Ollie M. James has announced himself a democratic candidate for Congress from the 1st district.

W. H. Huffman, Kentucky exotic in Indiana, has been indicted for altering a legislative bill, after its passage. By a technicality, it is more than probable that Caleb Powers will not be tried before July or August of next year.

W. S. Taylor failed to appear to preside over the debate at Greencastle, Ind., as the sentiment was too strong against him.

The Somers Republican made a desperate effort to have W. Kirk Boone nominated for jailer. One of its reasons for doing so was that Kirk is the only lad of his family.

Would a republican State convention, should he held, in view of the testimony of Ex-Gov. Bradley and Judge Yost in the Ripley case, endorse the "patriotic action of Taylor?"—Owensboro Messenger.

The president and several members of his cabinet will leave on the 29th on a train of Pullman palaces for a tour of the country to the Pacific coast. The trip will require six weeks and the traversing of 23 States.

Republican politicians at Washington are much wrought up over the prospect that Taylor will be sent back to Kentucky. An effort is being made to get Gov. Nash, of Ohio, to promise to protect the fugitives.

The time is past for tender treatment of the subject. William Goebel was foully murdered. It was a political assassination. There was a widespread conspiracy in high quarters. The attempt to show that the killing was a passing personal affair, for which nobody was responsible, has become a disgrace to our civilization. It has come to this, that the public or private man who does anything to further keep the conspirators out of the hands of the courts must have the contempt of all honest and decent men.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

When the democrats of the 18th Senatorial district renominated Hon. Geo. T. Farris, without opposition, they did the right thing in the right place. For the last four years Senator Farris has been prominent in legislative affairs. He is a fine speaker, a man of great ability, fears neither man nor devil and in democracy is one of the old blue hen's chieftains. Senator Farris is one of the best campaigners in the State, and his election four years ago and his renomination without opposition to succeed himself is convincing demonstration of his popularity. The Times confidently predicts that Senator Farris will be returned to the Senate, there to resume his position among the true, tried and staunch democratic leaders.—Glasgow Times.

An attempt to arrest two of the members of the Reynolds-Poiter band, indicted for the murder of Mrs. Nina Hall and her son last fall, resulted in a terrible fight at Boone's Fork, Letcher county, Thursday, in which two members of a posse of detectives were killed. One of the officers and one of the outlaws was wounded. An appeal was made for the militia, and Gov. Heckham ordered a Louisville and Lexington company to be on readiness, but afterwards decided not to send them.

Two married daughters of ex-Secretary of State John W. Headley and four prominent men have been indicted for adultery at Providence. The women's husbands secured indisputable evidence against them and sold out and left the country.

Mrs. Mariah Summers, aged 20 years, died at her home near Sand Hill a few days ago. She went to bed 14 days previous to her death and absolutely refused to be undressed. She laid to bed and died with her clothes, shoes and bonnet on.—Glasgow Times.

W. White made an insulting remark to a young lady at Fulton, Ky., and was fined $200. On his way to Newbern, Tenn., a mob caught him and after tying him across a barrel, a brother of the insulted girl whipped him till he begged for mercy.

PEARL.—In appointing John Pearl to be magistrate in Laurel county to fill a vacancy, Gov. Beckham proves his analogies and general understanding of the situation. Mr. Pearl is one of the best deminers and trust of men, and his appointment will be held with delight by his friends.

LONG RUN.—The Stanford Roller Mills, J. H. Baughman & Co., proprietors, had a long run last week. The mill started up at 12 o'clock Monday morning and made not a single stop until about 7 Saturday evening—about 110 hours. There's no telling how much money the clever proprietors made during that time.

NOTHING LIKE IT.—In a letter to a gentleman here stating that he could not furnish additional tickets for Jefferson, ordered by telegraph, Manager Charles Scott, of the Lexington Opera House, says that there was nothing like the demand for tickets ever seen there before. Men stood in line waiting for the sale of tickets to commence 28 hours and Mr. Scott had to return over $1,200 sent him by out-of-town patrons, for tickets.

IN THE song recital to be given by Mrs. Cecilia Eppinghouse Bailey at Walton's Opera House, April 26, with Mrs. Lee P. Huffman, as accompanist, she sings and acts in costume the Margherita's Jewel Scene, from the Opera Faust according to Goethe's German version, and fairly entrances her hearers. Lovers of music are looking forward to the rare treat in store for them and the Opera House will doubtless be filled to hear the charming vocalist.

INDICTED AND TRIAL SET.—Reuben Quinn, the Negro who shot Policeman Crum to death in his dive in Danville, was captured at Ludlow and brought to Danville at noon Saturday. He was indicted yesterday and his trial set for tomorrow, Wednesday. The trial will likely last only a few hours, as there are no witnesses to the killing, and in our Friday's paper we expect to tell when the first legal hanging Boyle has had in years, will take place. The feeling is very bitter against Quinn and nothing short of hanging will satisfy the outraged people of Danville and surrounding country. Quinn boarded a freight soon after leaving Lexington and when discovered by the crew he was invited to continue his ride. A telegram to Ludlow had officers at the depot when the train arrived and the Negro was soon in the clutches of the law. Marshal G. T. Helm and Sheriff G. W. Coulter and their deputies are entitled to great credit for their work in running down Quinn and the people will not soon forget their efforts.

A HEAD END collision of a work train and a through freight occurred near Pineville Friday afternoon. Wm. Sharp, engineer on the work train, was instantly killed. W. R. Fretwell, conductor on the same train, can not live, and Capt. Wilber on the through freight, was slightly injured. Barney Upton, engineer on the same train, and E. L. Wilson saved their lives by jumping from their engines. The two trains were running about 25 miles an hour when the collision occurred. Both engines were completely demolished. Sharp jumped from his engine, but was caught by a car of coal. He leaves a wife and six children. Mr. Fretwell died Saturday after horrible suffering. He lived at Rowland for years and "Old Fret," as he was familiarly known, had friends by the hundreds here. He was very popular with his fellow railroaders and was held in esteem by the company, which always kept him in a good job. A wife and several children survive. The remains were brought here yesterday and interred in Buffalo Cemetery under the auspices of the Odd Fellows, of which Mr. Fretwell was a devoted member.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL is preparing to print pictures and sketches of the candidates composing the invincible democratic ticket, which will show that they are not only a handsome but a well pedigreed set both as to family and as to democracy.

Mary Vandale, who was killed by a freight while crossing the Knob Creek bridge, has been reversed by the court of appeal. weekly meeting on Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. H. M. Ballou.

Mrs. Ollie Reid, of the Fall Lick section, died on Sunday and the interment took place in that neighborhood. She leaves a family and was about 40 years of age.

R. G. Ward has begun the foundation of the new house he is to erect for Capt. Wm. Herndon, in exchange for the dwelling now occupied by Mr.
Herndon and family.

The late refreshing rains have brought out the grass wonderfully, and it is again a goodly sight to see the delicate green silken verdure spreading over meadow and hill.

Some of the residents of the Marks-bury vicinity are losing their sheep by raids from the worthless dogs of that locality. A dose of lead is the only cure for the sheep-eating habit.

If the cold, rainy weather continues much longer the farmers will have a backset with their plowing. Though some grangers claim that corn planted in May will mature and make fine crops if the weather is seasonable.

The measuring party given Friday night by the boys of the baseball team to compete for the championship in the Blue Grass Tournament, realized about $18.38. The money will be used to buy all necessary baseball appurtenances.

Some enterprising citizens are making efforts to have an improvement in the accommodation trains on the L. & N. The principal undertaking will be to keep the night trains on and at the same time to secure better day service.

The Methodist parsonage is being built on the lot adjoining the church and is considerably under headway, the weatherboarding being now about completed. When finished it will be a neat six-room cottage with porches and basement.

Thomas Lawson, of the Flat Woods
neighborhood, died Saturday of the infirmities of age and was buried Sunday in that vicinity. He was a man of uprightness and integrity, and the people of that locality will miss such a good man from their midst.

Mrs. Bessie Batson has returned from a visit to the Misses Murphy in Lincoln. Miss Bettie Miller, who spent the winter with her brother, Samuel Miller, at Knoxville, is at home again.
Mrs. J. S. Robinson is at home after a visit to her mother, Mrs. Wallace, of Madison.

The lot leased by H. C. Jennings lying in the rear of his premises has been plowed and rolled and gotten into first-class condition for the athletic contests in which the boys of the Garrard Graded School will compete during the Blue Grass Tournament here
the latter part of May.

The Presbyterians are raising funds
to build a parsonage and are quite successful, eight members alone giving $1,600. A $1,000 subscription will be solicited, as it is their desire to build a handsome and commodious dwelling.

The lot on Water street, recently purchased by J. C. Hemphill, has been mentioned as a choice building site.
